9 in 10 voters say America needs additional coronavirus relief aid.

That includes:

- 97% of Democrats
- 62% of Republicans
- 69% of Independents

A plurality of voters (53%) blame both parties equally for the failure to pass another package.

Slightly more blame Republicans (51%) than Democrats (49%)

A majority of voters (52%) do not expect to vote in person on Election Day.

"Percentage of voters who do not expect to vote in person on Election Day based on geographic region.

60% of voters agree that voting by mail is secure and reliable

- 82% of Democrats
- 64% of Independents
- 55% of Republicans

Two-thirds of voters (66%) trust that the results of the election will be counted and reported accurately and fairly.

NEARLY 9 IN 10 VOTERS SAY THE VIRUS IS IMPACTING THEIR PERSONAL OR BUSINESS DECISIONS.

Two-thirds (66%) believe it will take the U.S. economy more than a year to fully recover.

Nearly 9 in 10 voters say they are following restrictions on non-essential businesses and social distancing requirements.

Learn more at voting.coronavirus.gov